Enderson's years in the service earn him honors

The Korean War has been called "the Forgotten War." Coverage of the 1950s conflict was censored, its memory decades later often overshadowed by World War II and the Vietnam War.

The war pitted South Korea and the United States against North Korea and China. Other nations also contributed troops, but American forces did most of the fighting. Almost 40,000 Americans died in action in Korea and more than 100,000 were wounded.

The war devastated Korea. Between three million and four million people were killed. The rate of civilian casualties was higher than World War II's and Vietnam's. Impacts of the Korean War linger to this day.

In December 1952 Ernie Enderson, a farm boy who had graduated from Buffalo Center High School in 1948, was drafted into the United States Army. He was 22 years old.

"There were 16 of us who left that day from Forest City headed for Des Moines and from there to Missouri," said Ernie.

After eight weeks of basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Ernie was "one of the lucky ones" sent to Engineer Maintenance School in Ft. Belvoir, Virginia. Eight weeks later he was flown to California, and then shipped to Korea, where he spent 40 days in combat, 16 months in active duty.

"It rained the first month I was in Seoul," Ernie remembers. "Because of my engineer training, I ran and

Permits may be required for new construction in Worth county

Those planning to construct new buildings on property throughout the county may soon be asked to fill out a permit before doing so, a change designed to make sure that every taxpayer in the county pays their fair share of taxes.

Worth County assessor Cindy Thompson proposed the change in policy to the Worth County supervisors at a recent board meeting.

Thompson said that more and more, some people are making it difficult or impossible to properly collect information and include newly constructed buildings on their property. She mentioned property owners who put up no trespassing signs, or refuse to let those assessing property in the county onto their land.

Thompson also noted that all too often construction will take place and a building not readily visible will not be assessed until several years later, when the County does its updated aerial photography for GIS mapping, when new images are compared to old to show new construction.

Thompson suggested that everyone in the county, except those that live in towns that already require building permits, should be required to file a permit with the assessor's office, so that any buildings can be properly added to the county's tax rolls.

Supervisor Mark Smeby asked how such a requirement would be enforced.

Chief deputy assessor Judy Stevens said that there would need be some discussion to establish a penalty for those that don't

Sewer rate increase may be needed, but severity is in question

The Northwood city council met with a financial advisor at their regular meeting last Monday, who informed them of a need to raise sewer utility rates to cover the higher than expected costs of operating the City's new wastewater treatment facility.

Larry Burger, of Speer Financial, explained the City's financial situation and needs to the council, in regards to raising rates to cover costs of operation.

Burger explained that there are two considerations for the amount the City should charge its sewer customers each month. The first is a revenue bond from the State of Iowa, which totaled $6,046,668.87 of the roughly $9.5 million total cost of the City's wastewater facility.

Burger said that current rates paid by Northwood residents include the funds to repay that bond over the 30 year life of the borrowing.

However, the other major cost that sewer charges have to cover, the cost of operations, is not being met by current rates. Burger said that the same is happening in many other cities Northwood's size.

According to figures presented by Burger, the City is currently bringing in nearly $574,000 in sewer revenue. The costs of operating and maintaining the facility are roughly $387,000. That leaves $187,000 each year for revenue bond payments. However, the City's repayment schedule calls for over $280,000 in bond payments each year for the remainder of the bond. That leaves the City collecting nearly $100,000 less than it needs to each year, according to Burger's figures.

Burger suggested two substantial increases in the next two years to bring rates in line with what the City needs for bond payments and to cover operating expenses. The increase would bring the average monthly bill from $51.19 to $64.12 by 2021. Burger said that after the rate was adjusted, much smaller increases of 2% annually would cover operating expense inflation.

However, Burger's call for a short term dramatic increase in sewer rates may not be nec-

Vikings Activity Center receives $82,000

In recent weeks the Vikings Activity Center project has received support from a Worth County-based charitable foundation and a fund set up in the memory of a longtime devoted supporter of the Northwood community and Northwood-Kensett schools.

The Northwood-Kensett school district will build an addition to the high school campus that will provide additional facilities for its students and fitness and exercise resources to the community, with memberships.

However, the school district will only be able to provide $4 million of the estimated $5.4 million cost to complete the project as designed. A committee of community members has been working with district officials to raise the remainder of the funds in grants and donations.

Among the latest contributions to complete the project is a grant from the Kinney-Lindstrom Foundation, which is based in worked on caterpillar tractors, road graders and all kinds of motors."

One day while working on a cement mixer motor that refused to start, Ernie remembered something his dad had taught him years before. "I was just a kid when I saw Dad squirt gas into a carburetor to get the engine running," he said. "I decided to do the same thing with the cement mixer. When I put gas into its carburetor, it started."

Enderson's years in the Service earned him the Korean Service Medal, Bronze Service Star, United Nations Service Medal, National Defense Service Medal and the Good Conduct Medal.

In October 1954 he was discharged to Fort Carson, Colorado, where he boarded a train to Des Moines. From there he had to find his own way home.

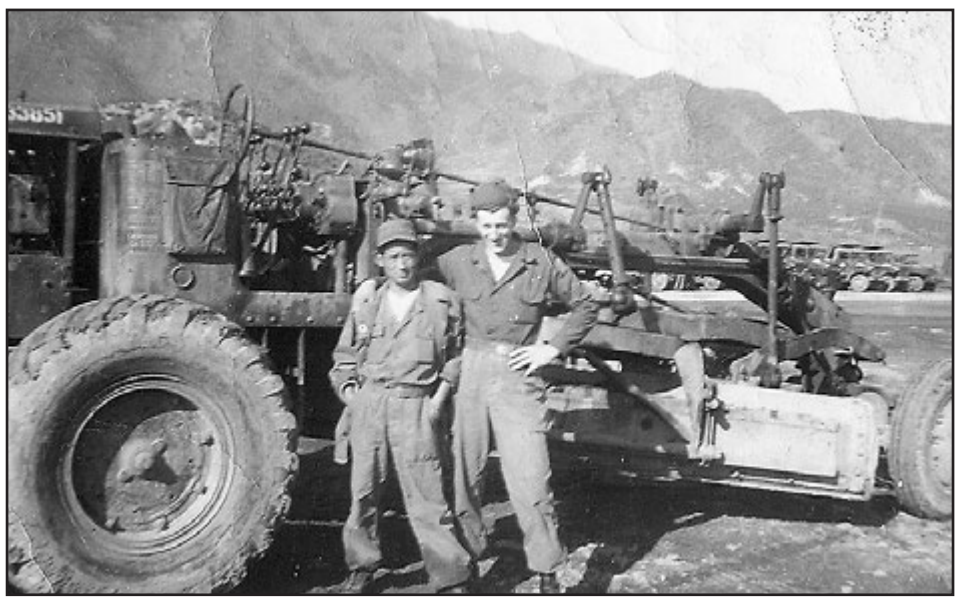

"The Army was a good experience," he smiled.

One evening in 1959 at the Terp Ballroom in Austin, Ernie met a beautiful girl from Albert Lea named Romelle. They were married in May 1960 at Asbury Methodist Church in Lake Mills and farmed near Manly for several years.

In May 1995 the couple bought the property at 501 Eighth St. North in Northwood, one year later turning it into a consignment shop.

"Since people couldn't remember the name Romelle, we named our shop Rhonda's Re-Threads & Antiques," said Ernie. "When people come into our shop, they tell me I'm a funny looking Rhonda."

"We opened our shop 23 years ago. The tree out front that was small has now grown tall and sturdy enough to have horses hitched to it."

Romelle and Ernie have five children. Son Gary, a registered nurse, lives in Dodge Center, Minnesota. Daughter Connie Hamilton, an elementary teacher, and her husband Jim live in Muscatine, Iowa, and have three children. Son Tim and his wife, Jeri, farm near Manly and have three children. Daughter Patti Beatty, a court reporter, and her husband Jim have two children and live in West Des Moines. Son Bill and his wife Ronda live on an acreage southeast of Northwood and have three children. Bill works in maintenance at the Diamond Jo Casino.

The couple is also blessed with 11 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Hanlontown. The Foundation has awarded a grant of $50,000 to the project.

Last week, it was also announced that the family of Ron Olson, through the Ron Olson Trust, has awarded nearly $32,000 to the project. Olson was a longtime reporter for the Northwood Anchor, who had a passion for covering the community and particularly N-K sports.

With a pledge of $50,000 from the City of Northwood, $5,000 from Worth County, the Kinney-Lindstrom Foundation grant and the funds given in memory of Ron Olson, as well as several private donations, over $152,000 has been raised for the project so far, in addition to the $4 million committed by the N-K district.

essary, tempered somewhat by a potential clerical miscommunication between the City's auditor and Burger's available analysis.

According to city administrator Amber Julseth, the City has been setting aside an infrastructure fee that was added to monthly bills to help pay the bond.

Burger suggested that the City's auditors had instructed the City to set that aside as a contingent necessary for standard bonds. However, Burger said that it was likely not necessary with the state revenue bond the City has received. If that is the case, the roughly $500,00 that has been set aside could instead go towards the additional operating costs and spread out the sharp jump in sewer fees that Burger had called for.

Burger said that if those funds that have been set aside can be put towards the sewer revenue, there would still be a need to increase rates to cover operating expenses, but such a sharp short term increase may not be necessary.

Burger was to discuss the funds in question with the City's auditing firm and provide updated rate options for the council to discuss at a future meeting.

Post Consumer Brands cereal sale to raise funds for WCCOP

Post Consumer Brands will be having a special event to celebrate its 125th Anniversary this Saturday, November 9, from 9 a.m. until noon. This event will be held at South Square in St. Ansgar, located at 202 South Washington Street. The event will be held in the gymnasium and kitchen area of South Square.

Donations will be presented to the Mitchell County Food Bank and to Worth County Community of Promise, the organization that runs the Worth County Community Food Pantry and Northwood Community Center.

There will be a free community breakfast held starting at 9:30 a.m. This is a time to try a variety of different breakfast foods that Post Consumer Brands offer.

Cereal will be on sale for $1 per box or bag. There will be a variety of cereals and oatmeal choices. There is a limit of 10 boxes per transaction per person. The cereal sale will be cash only and while supplies last.

All money raised through the cereal sale will be donated to Mitchell County Food Bank and to the Worth County Community of Promise.

Volunteers are needed to help run this event. Volunteers are needed on Friday, November 8 from 10 a.m. until noon to help unload the cereal and set up for the event. Volunteers are also needed on Saturday from 8:45 a.m. until noon to help with the fundraiser. Volunteer duties would include cashiering, picking cereals for customers, restocking the area, breakfast area helper and to help clean up. Anyone able to donate some time, would be appreciated. Large groups of volunteers and junior volunteers are welcome to come. Those interested in volunteering can contact Worth County Community of Promise at 641-324-9976 to sign up for a volunteer spot or with any questions.

New library offers customizable collaborative environment at Northwood-Kensett High School

While it has taken a few extra weeks to be completed, Northwood-Kensett's newest educational environment has been in use since the start of the school year, offering an improved and adaptable space for collaborative learning for N-K's students and staff.

Over the summer the N-K junior/senior high school media center and its adjacent classroom were renovated to become a larger, more open and more customizable modern media center.

At the north side of the library, replacing the previous media center is an open area, with shelves of books circling the exterior walls. In between are several tables, underneath TVs. The TVs are equipped so that students can remotely display their laptop computers, allowing them to share their work in the process.

In the center of the room is a variety of chairs and tables that can be arranged to fit students' needs and comfort as they work in their study periods of the day.

Gone is a long desk and reference section, as well as a walled off office space. In its place are a wider open space and a single desk area for library staff to assist and supervise students in the open area.

At the south side of the media center is an area with moveable walls that can be arranged to fit a variety of needs or folded to the side to completely open the full media center environment.

The back of the south side area is a white-board wall, with more than enough writing space for any brain-storming needs, whether that be students working together, teachers guiding students or those teachers helping each other learn through professional development time. The collapsible walls also include white board spaces so that the different configurations offer the same option.

Between the two parts of the space, where a hallway used to connect the east and west classrooms in that portion of the building, is a blue carpet and doors that can be open to allow students to pass between.

On either end of the renovated media center are areas that offer greater convenience for students and staff.

South of the media center is a new office area for the teachers that work outside of the classroom, whose job it is to provide resources, training and other assistance to their fellow faculty members as a part of the teacher leader program at N-K.

North of the media center are additional bathrooms, a more convenient location for the students in the junior high classrooms in that part of the building.

With a new library in the books, so to speak, the N-K students and staff are enjoying the opportunities and comforts that the renovated space provides.

Energy assistance program now taking applications

The North Iowa Community Action Organization Energy Assistance Program began taking applications for supplemental assistance on November 1.

The program will provide supplemental assistance based on several factors, including total household income, household size, dwelling type and type of heating fuel, among others. The deadline to apply is April 30, 2020.

Proof of income is required to apply. This can be in the form of applicants most recent 30 days of income or most recent federal income tax return. Check stubs, award letters from social security; FIP/child support/pension/dividends/ all other income sources must also be included.

Applicants will also need to verify their social security number, names and dates of birth for all family members and present their most recent heat and electric bills.

Income guidelines are: one household member, $21,858; two household members $29,593; three household members; $37,328; four household members, $45,063; five household members, $52,798; six household members, $60,533.

To apply in person in Worth County, go to the First Lutheran Church at 309 9th Street North in Northwood on the first Thursday of the month now through April. For hours, call 641-228-2893.

Further information is available at www.acf.hhs.gov/ocs/programs/liheap. Printable applications are available at www.nicao-online.org. Apply online at www.portal.liheap.net.

Thompson presented an example of a permit that may be adapted for use in Worth County.

The permit asks for the property owner's name, address, where the construction will occur, its use, the actual or estimated cost of construction, start and end dates and a sketch and dimensions of the construction project.

Thompson said that, with the supervisors' consent, she would work out further details about how to implement the permit requirement and how any fees or penalties would be established and enforced before working with the supervisors to establish the permit process.

Once in place, the assessor's office will mail information with assessment notices and publish information in the newspaper to make sure county residents are aware once the permits are required.

Kavars receives probation, fines for animal neglect

By Erin McCord

Sentencing has been handed down in the criminal case of Barb Kavars, ending the saga that began almost a year ago.

For her conviction on 14 counts of animal neglect, Kavars was sentenced to a two-year probation period and a $65 fine plus surchage on each count; was ordered to undergo a mental health evaluation and to follow through with any recommended treatment; given a suspended sentence of 30 days in jail for each count, suspended unless she should violate her probation. Kavars is not allowed to own or breed any dogs during her probation. She may own one neutered cat.

District court judge Lawrence Jahn told Kavars that it had been her responsibility to care for and control her animals.

Henderson finds joy in family, Top of Iowa and Allis Chalmers

By JoAnn Lower

If you ask Charlie Henderson what his favorite things are, he will smile and say, "My grandchildren, lutefisk suppers and Allis Chalmers tractors."

"My six grandchildren are the best part of my life," he said, pointing to their pictures on his living room wall. "I love spending time with them and attending their sports events."

Charlie goes to seven lutefisk dinners every year. "Going to the different dinners over the years, you get to know a lot of people. My friends and I put on our lutefisk sweatshirts and away we go."

"Allis Chalmers tractors are my favorite because that's what we farmed with."

Henderson grew up on a farm in Worth County, south of Emmons and west of Silver Lake. After high school he married Corliss Wahl from Grafton and started working at Fleetguard in Lake Mills, a job he went to every day for 42 years.

"Corliss and I raised three kids, a daughter and two sons," he said proudly. Sadly, Corliss passed away in 1996.

In 2010 Henderson started working at the Top of Iowa Welcome Center, doing outside maintenance and mowing, as well as helping inside, greeting and helping guests. "It's fun," he said. "I enjoy working for Jean Stowell and the good people she has working there."

"Since my wife passed away it's nice having something to do, and I love being out and around people. One thing that's made it so good at the Welcome Center is Jean. She is so nice and easy to work for. Jean makes my work fun and enjoyable."

About 10 years ago Charlie and his son Aaron became interested in tractors and had a chance to buy a tractor like one they had on the farm when he was growing up. Aaron is still using that little tractor to mow his acreage.

You'll often find this father/son duo at antique power shows, Farming of Yesteryear in Kiester and Heritage Park in Forest City.

After buying two more Allis Chalmers tractors, the third a D-17, Aaron and Charlie realized they didn't have use for all of them, so they sold one. Aaron still uses the other two on his acreage.

Henderson then became interested in collecting dye-cast tractors, Allis Chalmers prints and other memorabilia. He now has a collection of the entire Allis Chalmers D Series.

The "Orange Spectacular," a big Allis Chalmers show in Hutchinson, Minnesota, is a favorite event Charlie attends every year, a place where strictly Allis Chalmers tractors and implements are shown.

Among his memorabilia are an Allis Chalmers stein (Bradford Collection), several years of Allis Chalmers tractors neatly arranged atop his kitchen cupboards, Allis Chalmers pull chains on his ceiling lights and kitchen curtains embroidered with Allis Chalmers tractors. He even has an Allis Chalmers weathervane lightning rod proudly displayed on his kitchen table.

"Orange kind of works its way around the corner into my bathroom, too," he smiles.

Were you to visit Charlie's home in Lake Mills, you would see his patio complete with orange bird feeders, orange chairs and two orange milk cans with Allis Chalmers logos. And, of course, you'll recognize this kind gentleman when he's wearing his orange Allis Chalmers shirt and cap – a sign that he's a member of the Orange Toppers Club.

Besides his grandchildren, lutefisk suppers and Allis Chalmers tractors, Charlie is a fan of Twins Baseball and thoroughly enjoys going to stock car races.

NOTICE

The City of Northwood is requesting that all citizens cooperate with a

of leaves and garden waste.

As a service to Northwood Residents the City will pick up leaves with its bailer under the following guidelines:

- Leaves will be picked-up early in the week
  Giving residents the weekend for yard work.
- All leaves must be placed on the hard surface of the road
- No pickup in alleys.
- Only leaves and grass may be picked-up.
- For best results, piles should be raked into the street in rows and should be no more than 4-feet wide, by 3-feet high, for best results.
- Residents may haul leaves to the old dump site from Monday - Sunday. Loose leaves and/or biodegradable bags may be used, however loose leaves must be transported under a tarp. The loose leaves and/or biodegradable bags are to be placed with the piles at the site. Plastic bags and boxes may not be left at the site with the leaves. These are State Code of Iowa requirements.

Please show your concern for our citizens who have respiratory and heart difficulties by voluntarily not burning.

Thank you,
Doug Moehle, Mayor

Halloween contest winners

KJCY Christian Radio to host annual 'Share-a-thon' fundraiser

KJCY Christian Radio will be celebrating its 18th year of on-air broadcasting during its annual "Share-a-thon" November 12 - 14.

Featuring this year's theme of "Answers. Light. Hope!" the Share-a-thon fundraiser will feature interviews with local listeners, special guests, music and free family events. Share-a-thon will also provide listeners and friends the opportunity to share a tax-deductible donation with the listener-supported ministry of KJCY.

KJCY is a part of the nonprofit and listener-supported "Kinship Christian Radio" ministry, which has expanded from a single radio station formed in 1983 to serve most of southern Minnesota and northern Iowa through its eight full power stations and 14 "Translator" (repeater) stations.

KJCY's goal is to share gospel of Jesus Christ through its 24-hour daily presentation of Christian Bible teaching programs, music, news and information. KJCY can be heard at 95.5 FM.

In addition to the Share-a-thon broadcast, the three days of celebration will feature a number of fun activities and free family events. More information is available by visiting KinshipRadio.org or calling KJCY at 800-810-5559.

Blind Spot

We all have our blind spots—literal or figurative things that we can't see or realize about ourselves—and we can't see them, because they are, by definition, hidden from us. Therefore we need people who will tell us our faults and point out the things that we just can't see or accept. Societies and cultures have blind spots too. Think of how long many Americans, and most of "civilization," defended slavery as an institution. What our current societal blind spots are is something that only history will bear out, but what our personal blind spots are is something which we can have some control over. Instead of reacting defensively to criticism—as most of us do—we should be quick to accept it, or at least to reflect on it honestly, and try to ferret out the kernel of truth that is usually there in even the harshest criticism. It's not always wise to be the one delivering the criticism; most people don't accept it without some hard feelings. Unless we're perfect, we're going to be on the receiving end of criticism, and it is sometimes the job of people to deliver it, such as teachers, coaches, and managers. So instead of reacting defensively, thank the person, and consider how you might amend your life. –Christopher Simon

"Whoever heeds life-giving correction will be at home among the wise. Those who disregard discipline despise themselves, but the one who heeds correction gains understanding."
– Proverbs 15:31-32 NIV

Cook Bookin'

We may live without poetry, music and art; We may live without conscience and live without heart; We may live without friends; we may live without books; But a civilized man cannot live without cooks.

Bulwer Lytton, Edward Robert

by Sandy Olson

To contact Sandy Olson for comments or suggestions, please email her at: midwestfoodie@gmail.com

Sandra Lee is the queen of convenience food ingredients which she turns into delicious dishes she calls "semi-homemade." Besides being drop-dead gorgeous, she is always dressed up and looks as though she never enters a kitchen to actually cook! "Semi-Homemade Grilling 2" (2008, Meredith Publishing, Des Moines) is the perfect book for the end of the traditional grilling season. These dishes are quick: they're all "Dogs and Sausages," adapted from that chapter of this cookbook. SANDY'S NOTE: in her recipes, Ms. Lee mentions specifically named brands of ingredients. I have not done that; there are many varieties that will work well.

Reuben Dogs

4 large all-beef hot dogs
4 teaspoons spicy brown-style mustard
12 slices of pre-packaged pastrami from the deli section
4 large sturdy hot dog rolls, either sour dough or French-style
4 slices Swiss cheese
1 cup canned Bavarian-style sauerkraut, drained
Bottled thousand island salad dressing

Set up your grill for direct cooking over medium heat, charcoal or gas. Oil the grates to help prevent sticking. Spread each dog on all sides with a teaspoon of the mustard and wrap in 3 of the thin slices of pastrami. Grill on the hot oiled grill, 12-16 minutes turning frequently to brown all sides. These meats are already pre-cooked so you are only heating and browning them without burning. If desired, toast the split rolls on the grill before filling them with a slice of cheese, the grilled dog and some sauerkraut on top. Drizzle on the thousand island dressing to taste.

Perro Caliente
(Hot Dogs, in Spanish)

4 habanero & green chili bratwurst or other sausages with these flavors
4 large, taco-sized, flour tortillas
4 slices hot pepper Cheddar or Jack cheese
1 cup prepared, canned refried beans, heated
1/2 cup bottled chunky spicy salsa

Set up the grill for direct cooking over medium heat. Oil the grates when ready to cook to help prevent sticking. Place the sausages on the hot grill and cook for 12-15 minutes, turning occasionally, until thoroughly cooked. Internal temperature should be at least 160 degrees F. Toast the tortillas briefly on the grill, about 10 seconds per side, flipping with the use of tongs. Remove from heat and place a slice of cheese on each tortilla. Add a sausage and top with a spoonful of refried beans and salsa. Fold the tortilla over the sausage to contain all the ingredients. Serve with Spanish rice on the side, if desired.

Saucy White Hots

For meat sauce:
1/2 pound lean ground beef
1 can (14 oz.) low-sodium beef broth
1/2 cup bottled chili sauce
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 teaspoon spice Montreal steak seasoning
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon

In a large, heavy skillet combine all the sauce ingredients and mix well. Cook over medium heat, breaking the meat up into small pieces. Reduce heat and simmer gently for 45-60 minutes or until the liquid has evaporated. Watch the it doesn't stick.

For the white hots:
4 German-style white sausages, such as jager wurst or white bratwurst.
4 large sturdy bratwurst rolls, French or Italian, toasted on the grill

When ready to cook the sausages, oil the grill grates and place the brats on the hot grill. Cook 12-15 minutes, rolling them around to cook all sides, until the internal temperature is at least 160 degrees F. Place the brats on the toasted buns and top with the meat sauce and, if desired, additional chopped onion.

Ms. Lee has all her bases covered as the recipes in this book also have indoor methods of cooking… in case it rains! I saw Sandra Lee in person several years ago. She is just as lovely as her pictures in the cookbook portray. I don't think she ever eats any of her own creations, however! And…that's all she wrote.

Veterans washing away disabilities

The Worth County 4-H teamed up with several organizations conducting a car wash fundraiser for an "Annual Veterans Casting Away Disabilities Fishing Camp" for Disabled Veterans on Saturday, Oct. 19. Organizations and businesses cooperating in the event were the Northwood and Kensett Lions, Northwood VFW, Manly American Legion and Northwood CarQuest. These groups appreciated everyone who supported and sponsored this very worthy cause.

Northwood Public Library

By Morgan Johnson
Library Director

Wow, what an amazing Halloween Party we had at the library thanks to Stephanie Harmon, Addie Rugland, Ken Block and their entire crew! We had almost 90 kids in attendance, and I think it's safe to say they all had a blast! Kids made Halloween wreaths and lanterns, went on a scavenger hunt, played bingo, received a book in memory of Marybelle Block and enjoyed snacks. Now we can look ahead to the next holiday! We will have a Thanksgiving themed evening story hour on Thursday, November 21 starting at 6:30 p.m. We hope you can join us for some fun!

Some upcoming holiday closure dates for the library include Monday November 11 for Veteran's day and Thursday the 28th and Friday the 29th for Thanksgiving. Make sure to stop in the library before these dates to stock up on books and DVDs!

Due to my extended maternity leave, we will not be starting Friday morning story hours until after Thanksgiving. Our first Friday morning story hour will be on December 6 at 10 a.m. followed by story hours on the 13th and 20th.

New at the library this month:

Adult Fiction: "Killer Instincts" by James Patterson, "Child's Play" by Danielle Steel, "Land of Wolves" by Craig Johnson, "The Giver of Stars" by Jojo Moyes, "The Guardian" by John Grisham, "Bloody Genius" by John Sandford, and "What Happens in Paradise" by Elin Hilderbrand.

Large Print: "What Comes My Way" by Tracie Peterson, "Monahan's Massacre" by William Johnstone, "A Reluctant Belle" by Beth White, "The Dutch House" by Ann Patchett, and "A Mrs. Miracle Christmas" by Debbie Macomber.

DVDs: "Avengers: Endgame," "Aladdin," "Men in Black: International," "The Secret Life of Pets 2," "Dark Phoenix," "Toy Story 2" and "Godzilla: King of the Monsters."

The best way to stay up to date with us is to like our Facebook page! Also feel free to visit our website www.youseemore.com/NILC/Northwood or give us a call at 324-1340. We hope to see you at the library soon!

WINTER PARKING

No Parking on any public streets or alleys during a snow emergency unless the snow has been removed or plowed and the snow has ceased to fall.

Parking tickets will be issued for those in violation.

WINTER PARKING REMINDER

69.10 SNOW EMERGENCY. No person shall park, abandon, or leave unattended any vehicle on any public street, alley or City-owned off-street parking area during snow emergency proclaimed by the Mayor unless the snow has been removed or plowed from said street, alley or parking area and the snow has ceased to fall. A snow emergency parking ban shall continue from its proclamation through the duration of the snow or ice storm and the 48-hour period after cessation of the storm except as above provided upon streets that have been fully opened. The ban shall be of uniform application and the Worth County Sheriff is directed to publicize the requirements widely, using all available news media, in early November each year. When predictions or occurrences indicate the need, the Mayor shall proclaim a snow emergency and the Worth County Sheriff shall inform the news media to publicize the proclamation and the parking rules under the emergency. The emergency may be extended or shortened when conditions warrant.

Veterans Day facts and figures

Veterans Day, once known as Armistice Day, was first celebrated on November 11, 1919, the anniversary of the end of World War I.

Differing from Memorial Day in May, Armistice Day, pays tribute to veterans who survived various wars. Memorial Day commemorates those veterans who lost their lives.

Americans celebrate Veterans Day, while residents of Great Britain, Canada and Australia celebrate Remembrance Day. Those who want to learn more about Veterans Day can consider the following facts:

• According to the American Community Survey, there were 19.3 million military veterans in the United States in 2014. Of those, 1.6 million were female.

• California, Texas and Florida comprise the states with the largest number of veterans, equalling one million or more.

• Veterans consist of people who served in the military. This includes the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, and Coast Guard. Veterans serve in times of war and peace.

• The word "veteran" comes from the Old English language and means "old, experienced soldier." The first use of the word was documented in 1789.

• Although many veterans are working, and the average annual income of male veterans is $37,000, some veterans continue to be unemployed. According to data from the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics, the overall unemployment rate for veterans rose to 7.6 percent in January 2013. The unemployment rate of post-9/11 veterans or those who participated in the Gulf War reached 6.2 percent.

• Upon retiring or being discharged, veterans may need help acclimating to life outside the military. The Department of Veterans Affairs says about 30 percent of Vietnam War veterans have been diagnosed with post-traumatic stress disorder, or PTSD.

• An American soldier was buried at the national cemetery in Arlington on November 11, 1921. His identity was unknown, and the gravesite is known as the "Tomb of the Unknown Soldier." A guard from the Society of the Honor Guard stands watch over the grave each year on Veterans Day, and the president or another high-ranking member of the government places a wreath on the grave.

Ponderings from the Batt Cave

By Al Batt writer, speaker, storyteller and humorist.

Echoes from the Loafers' Club Meeting

I couldn't sleep last night.

You should do what I do when I have trouble sleeping.

What's that?

I pretend I'm in a meeting.

Driving by Bruce's drive

I have a wonderful neighbor, named Bruce. Whenever I pass his drive, thoughts occur to me, such as: I was up and running by 3 a.m. on Halloween. John Keats wrote,"There is a budding morrow in midnight." It wasn't doing much budding at 3 a.m. I recall Halloween being held at the local grade school when I was a pup. There was plenty of treating, but no tricking. I walked in the dark woods after that overload of sugar. I climbed a hill that I'd named Uphill in order to clear my head. Before going to bed, I listened to a scary reading on the radio as only a child could listen. Frightening things like that are called the news today. I sat in a roomy, upholstered chair as I focused my ears. As the story progressed, I felt the arms of the chair moving closer to my body. I went to bed early.

I made it to the airport early. The place was hopping even at a bit past 4 a.m. A fellow asked me, "What are all these people doing up so early?"

"Poor planning," I answered. I was happy to get to my destination without encountering any ostriches. I drove down a rural Minnesota road one night when I encountered an ostrich running down the middle of the road ahead of me. It's impossible to pass an ostrich running down the middle of a road. An ostrich can run 43 mph. I signaled, but the big bird had no rearview mirrors. The ostrich made a right-hand turn without signaling. In Lewis Carroll's "Through the Looking-Glass," the Red Queen tells Alice: "Now, here, you see, it takes all the running you can do, to keep in the same place. If you want to get somewhere else, you must run at least twice as fast as that!"

Inside the gigantic airport, I found a purveyor of foodstuffs that offered a donut with a hole for $3 and a donut without a hole for $3.50. That company is going into the hole and still making a profit.

I spent part of Halloween in Sitka, Alaska. I dressed up as a Minnesotan. It was a trick getting there, but a treat being there.

Thoughts while trying not to yodel

A professor told me, "Don't let the parade pass you by." I thought that was the point to a parade.

Listening is usually the best advice.

Never let a traffic light know you're in a hurry.

The Woodstock of capitalism

More than 40,000 investors made a pilgrimage to the Berkshire Hathaway Annual Meeting held in Omaha to hear Warren Buffet, the 89-year-old Oracle of Omaha, give advice to young people. He said they should look for those better than they are and try to be like them. They'll need to try to be like your mother or mine.

Nature notes

The yard scold, a boisterous blue jay, had a comment on everything. This is the time of the year when the crows begin to get on the nerves of anyone named Caw. It's also the time of the year when we notice much of the leaves remaining on trees belong to nonnatives like buckthorn, lilac and weeping willow.

I moseyed along a lovely trail at the Columbia Audubon Nature Sanctuary located in Columbia, Missouri. I walked in on a Carolina wren concert. A pair bond can form between Carolina wrens at any time of the year and they usually mate for life. A pair stays together all year and forage on territory together.

I found pelicans to keep a rehabilitated pelican company when it was released in late October. During the breeding season, both male and female American white pelicans develop a pronounced fibrous plate on the top of their bills called a nuptial tubercle that is shed by the end of the breeding season.

The three sisters are corn, beans and squash. Native Americans found this trio thrived when planted together. In legend, the plants were gifts from the gods to be grown together, eaten together and celebrated together. The corn offers the beans support. The beans pull nitrogen from the air and into the soil for the benefit of all three. The large leaves of the sprawling squash protect the others by creating a living mulch shading the soil while keeping it cool and moist, and limiting weeds.

Meeting adjourned

From the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs website, www.va.gov:

The history of Veterans Day

World War I – known at the time as "The Great War" - officially ended when the Treaty of Versailles was signed on June 28, 1919, in the Palace of Versailles outside the town of Versailles, France. However, fighting ceased seven months earlier when an armistice, or temporary cessation of hostilities, between the Allied nations and Germany went into effect on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month. For that reason, November 11, 1918, is generally regarded as the end of "the war to end all wars."

In November 1919, President Wilson proclaimed November 11 as the first commemoration of Armistice Day with the following words: "To us in America, the reflections of Armistice Day will be filled with solemn pride in the heroism of those who died in the country's service and with gratitude for the victory, both because of the thing from which it has freed us and because of the opportunity it has given America to show her sympathy with peace and justice in the councils of the nations…"

The original concept for the celebration was for a day observed with parades and public meetings and a brief suspension of business beginning at 11 a.m.

The United States Congress officially recognized the end of World War I when it passed a concurrent resolution on June 4, 1926, with these words:

"Whereas the 11th of November 1918, marked the cessation of the most destructive, sanguinary, and far reaching war in human annals and the resumption by the people of the United States of peaceful relations with other nations, which we hope may never again be severed, and

"Whereas it is fitting that the recurring anniversary of this date should be commemorated with thanksgiving and prayer and exercises designed to perpetuate peace through good will and mutual understanding between nations; and

"Whereas the legislatures of twenty-seven of our States have already declared November 11 to be a legal holiday: Therefore be it Resolved by the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring), that the President of the United States is requested to issue a proclamation calling upon the officials to display the flag of the United States on all Government buildings on November 11 and inviting the people of the United States to observe the day in schools and churches, or other suitable places, with appropriate ceremonies of friendly relations with all other peoples."

An Act approved May 13, 1938, made the 11th of November in each year a legal holiday—a day to be dedicated to the cause of world peace and to be thereafter celebrated and known as "Armistice Day." Armistice Day was primarily a day set aside to honor veterans of World War I, but in 1954, after World War II had required the greatest mobilization of soldiers, sailors, Marines and airmen in the Nation's history; after American forces had fought aggression in Korea, the 83rd Congress, at the urging of the veterans service organizations, amended the Act of 1938 by striking out the word "Armistice" and inserting in its place the word "Veterans." With the approval of this legislation on June 1, 1954, November 11 became a day to honor American veterans of all wars.

Later that same year, on October 8, President Dwight D. Eisenhower issued the first "Veterans Day Proclamation" which stated: "In order to insure proper and widespread observance of this anniversary, all veterans, all veterans' organizations, and the entire citizenry will wish to join hands in the common purpose. Toward this end, I am designating the Administrator of Veterans' Affairs as Chairman of a Veterans Day National Committee, which shall include such other persons as the Chairman may select, and which will coordinate at the national level necessary planning for the observance. I am also requesting the heads of all departments and agencies of the Executive branch of the Government to assist the National Committee in every way possible."

On that same day, President Eisenhower sent a letter to the Honorable Harvey V. Higley, Administrator of Veterans' Affairs (VA), designating him as Chairman of the Veterans Day National Committee.

In 1958, the White House advised VA's General Counsel that the 1954 designation of the VA Administrator as Chairman of the Veterans Day National Committee applied to all subsequent VA Administrators. Since March 1989 when VA was elevated to a cabinet level department, the Secretary of Veterans Affairs has served as the committee's chairman.

The Uniform Holiday Bill was signed on June 28, 1968, and was intended to ensure three-day weekends for federal employees by celebrating four national holidays on Mondays: Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Veterans Day and Columbus Day. It was thought that these extended weekends would encourage travel, recreational and cultural activities and stimulate greater industrial and commercial production. Many states did not agree with this decision and continued to celebrate the holidays on their original dates.

The first Veterans Day under the new law was observed with much confusion on October 25, 1971. It was quite apparent that the commemoration of this day was a matter of historic and patriotic significance to a great number of our citizens, and so on September 20, 1975, President Gerald R. Ford signed Public Law 94-97, which returned the annual observance of Veterans Day to its original date of November 11, beginning in 1978. This action supported the desires of the overwhelming majority of state legislatures, all major veterans service organizations and the American people.

Veterans Day continues to be observed on November 11, regardless of what day of the week on which it falls. The restoration of the observance of Veterans Day to November 11 not only preserves the historical significance of the date, but helps focus attention on the important purpose of Veterans Day: A celebration to honor America's veterans for their patriotism, love of country, and willingness to serve and sacrifice for the common good.

At the regular meeting of the Northwood council, a contract was made with the electric company to furnish light on the streets all night instead of until 12 o'clock only, as has been the arrangement heretofore.

Mr. Sever Haugerud and Miss Gena Nelson, two favorably known young people of the Silver Lake neighborhood, were married at the residence of the groom's brother-in-law, Gust Sorbo. Rev. O.C. Brenna performed the ceremony in the presence of a few immediate relatives and friends.

Postmaster Remore and his clerks are well pleased with the new cancelling machine recently received for use in the local office. Heretofore the cancellation of stamps was affected by means of a hand stamp, each letter or piece of first-class mail having to be shuffled by hand as the stamping was done.

The adjourned sessions of the October term of the Worth County district court closed after having translated about five days business. The grand jury was convened on October 21 with O.O. Lund as foreman, Chris Winden, clerk, and A.K. Trustem, deputy sheriff, acting as bailiff. No business coming before the inquisitorial body, it was discharged shortly after convening.

Coming into this football season Vikings head coach Dave Capitani had a dilemma on his hands. With his usual kicker, Nik Werner, suffering from a sore foot, what kind of a kicking game would N-K have this year, and just who would step in to do the kicking? Those concerns faded away when Paul Schindler, a German exchange student living with Jason and Jodie Bachtle, walked into the football locker room and announced that he wanted to play football.

Brothers Bertrum and Bernard Bidne are excited for next year's baseball season, when they get to sit in special seats at Target Field to watch their favorite Twins play baseball. The Bidnes have seen 650 Twin games since their retirement in March 1989. Their seats are above home base on the second level and are accessible by an elevator. They have an enclosure right behind them complete with heat and air conditioning where they are welcome to go in inclement weather. The Bidnes know the director of the stadium, Scott, who used to be their ticket agent. The Bidnes appreciate the VIP treatment they receive from the Twins management, which makes them feel special and allows them to have fun in their retirement.

A good sign for MercyOne

Patients, visitors and passersby may have noticed some updated signs at MercyOne's clinic in Northwood recently. That includes this display at the front of the building. The staff of MercyOne in Northwood are pictured above with the new sign.

MercyOne hosts Albert Lea community event on Nov. 9

If anyone is curious about what the new MercyOne Albert Lea Clinic will look like, attend a public open house on November 9, from 10 a.m. – 3 p.m. at the former Herberger's space in Northbridge Mall.

While the actual clinic won't open for services until July, 2020, MercyOne is bringing a contingent of 40 staff members to Albert Lea to hold a 3P event. 3P is a methodology that allows us to design the space keeping consumers and processes at the forefront.

During the event, team members will build a 'life size' model of the space out of cardboard. As the space is built, the team will run simulations of patient care scenarios to make sure the space works well for both patients and the clinical staff.

The process allows MercyOne to literally build and test exciting new models that will result in a personalized and radically convenient consumer experience for our new market in Albert Lea.

The 3P event will be held the week of November 4-8 and the public is invited to a community celebration on November 9, which will include tours of the life-size model of the cardboard clinic.

There will be several photo booths available at the event as well. The photo booths provide a printed photo of individuals or a group of friends. These photos will be used to create a large mosaic that will become a piece of art in the new clinic.

People can also submit photos to be included in the mosaic by posting them to a public Instagram account or Twitter with the hashtag, #MercyOneAlbertLea.

Iowa is first on average ACT scores

ACT, the educational testing agency, recently announced national assessment results, which showed that Iowa's average composite score tied for first in the nation amongst students in the class of 2019.

Iowa and South Dakota had an average composite score of 21.6 out of a possible 36. Iowa's score declined slightly from the previous year (21.8), but remains well above the national average (20.7). The 22,965 Iowa students who took the ACT represent 66 percent of last spring's graduating class.

"Iowa's leading the nation in ACT scores, an important measurement to determine college and career readiness. The results reflect our commitment to education and the need to do even more to better prepare our young people for the future," said Iowa Governor Kim Reynolds. "It's why Iowa must continue to build on innovative programs that connect individuals to the training and education required for rewarding careers."

Iowa Department of Education Director Ryan Wise issued the following statement:

"Schools are doing more than ever to ensure that all students are ready for the demands of college or career training. While there's more to do, today's news is a testament to all of the great work underway. In my weekly visits to schools across the state, I'm inspired by students taking ownership of their learning and teachers committed to preparing students for success beyond high school."

ACT is an organization based in Iowa City, which offers testing to help gauge, guide and determine college career readiness.

The test was originally launched in 1959, by University of Iowa education professor E.F. Lindquist, along with U of I Registrar Ted McCarrel. The test broke new ground, focusing not on aptitude, but instead on academic achievement mastery of the skills and knowledge taught in schools.

Bolan

During worship service at Bolan Trinity there was a time of "Memorial Remembrance " in which Betty Anderson's name was read, as was Dale Meyer's. A bell was rung for each one of them, and a family member came up to the altar to receive a rose. There was also a time for "Dedication" of the memorials received from October 1, 2018 and October 1, 2019.

Following the Trinity worship service and coffee fellowship there was a swiss steak dinner served for the guests and church family members for a free will donation. There was a large group who attended this special memorial service and then enjoyed a very good meal and fellowship time.

Mannheim Steamroller Christmas comes to NIACC on Nov. 13

Sukup Manufacturing Co. and Mason City Clinic presents Mannheim Steamroller Christmas by Chip Davis at the North Iowa Community Auditorium on the NIACC campus at 3:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, November 13, 2019.

Join the celebration as Mannheim Steamroller makes history again - Celebrating 35 years of holiday magic as they bring their annual holiday tour to fans throughout the country.

Experience the performance of the #1 Christmas music artist in history and for the first time ever, hear the entire album that started it all, LIVE - "Mannheim Steamroller Christmas!"

This fall, Chip Davis, founder and creator of Mannheim Steamroller, will celebrate the 35th Anniversary of his annual Christmas concert tour, making it the longest running consecutive concert tour in the entertainment industry!

"I remember when I came out with my first Christmas album in 1984 followed by our first tour. Back then, many in the music industry said focusing on Christmas just wouldn't work," said Davis.

"Now, 35 years later, we are still going strong. I want to thank our fans for making us part of their holiday tradition. Today we often see multi-generational families join us during the holidays each year."

Davis founded his own record label, American Gramaphone, which went on to become one of the industry's largest independent record labels. A Grammy Award winner, Mannheim Steamroller has sold more than 40 million albums, 29 million in the Christmas genre. Their holiday CD's have become synonymous with Christmas and occupy top positions on Billboard's Seasonal Chart every year.

This year's show will feature all of the favorite original classic Christmas hits from the first Mannheim Steamroller Christmas album, along with multimedia effects in an intimate setting. Davis will direct and co-produce Tour performances with MagicSpace Entertainment.

From his longtime home in Omaha, Nebraska, Mannheim Steamroller creator and founder Chip Davis makes innovative music inspired by the sounds of another age. This former teacher and jingle writer founded the music industry's largest independent recording label, American Gramaphone, in 1974 when industry executives said Davis' innovative 18th century instrumental rock sound would never sell. In addition to a Grammy Award, Davis is largely credited with establishing the New Age music category.

His first Christmas album in 1984 revolutionized the making and marketing of holiday music, and the album's success made Christmas records a "must do" for all music artists. With more than 29 million Christmas albums sold, Davis is the #1-selling Christmas artist of all time with Elvis coming in at a distant 17 million holiday records sold. Having 19 gold, eight multi-platinum and four platinum-certified records, Davis is among an elite group of music artists with this number of RIAA records.

More information about the show is available by visiting www.mannheim-steamroller.com or watching a video at www.niacc.edu/palvideos.

For tickets to the show, call the NIACC Box Office at 1-888-466-4222, extension 4188. Tickets may also be purchased online at www.niacc.edu/boxoffice.
